

About Amber Melanie Smith

Amber is an award-winning young nonprofit founder and Executive Director of Activate Good in Raleigh, NC, and professional speaker passionate about helping every person realize their potential to make and lead positive change in the world.

As a little girl, Amber wanted to change the world. There were just a few problems: She had no superpowers, no money, and no leadership skills or business know-how. So Amber took off on a two and half month cross-country road trip with her best friend, volunteering and conducting acts of kindness in over 20 states, during which she discovered her power to make an impact. When she returned to her hometown in Raleigh, NC, she launched a nonprofit organization from nothing that now mobilizes thousands of volunteers and helps hundreds of causes.

Discover How to Make an Impact Through Lifestyle and Career

Welcome to your crash course in all the ways you can make an impact through your lifestyle and career

The world is changing, and now more than ever, it needs people who will step up and make a positive impact in their communities. But is there a way to know which changemaking path is right for you? Can your unique talents or interests help you move the needle for a cause you care about? Can you have a career that makes an impact and makes a living?

Yes, yes, and yes!

Change the World or Bust! is an engaging, interactive workshop that helps audience members discover their lifetime path to making an impact. We'll cover how to identify a cause to champion, how to be an effective philanthropist or volunteer, and how to pave the way for a changemaking career in nonprofits, social enterprise, or business.

All participants leave this workshop with practical next steps and ready-to-go resources, including:

- A personal Changemaker Profile
- A list of colleges or other professional resources offering additional social impact learning opportunities
- A list of scholarships, grants or other opportunities they can explore to take their social impact lifestyle or career goals to the next level!
